IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Why do I need to use a holding tank deodorant?

All types of marine or RV systems offer ideal conditions for odor to grow out of control. When closed, the mechanical seals in the toilets described earlier also act as an odor seal. However, during flushing, odors may enter the bathroom area as air escapes from the system. Odor may also escape to the outside through tank vents.

Which deodorant brand should I buy?

SeaLand is a leading brand of sanitation systems and accessories for the marine and RV industry. SeaLand products have been thoroughly tested by an independent laboratory and found to be outstanding in odor control effectiveness. In addition, they also contain biodegradable detergents which break down grease and waste and help keep holding tanks and hoses clean. SeaLand deodorant products are also compatible with residential septic and municipal waste treatment systems.

Should I use dry or liquid?

The use of SeaLand granulated or liquid holding tank deodorant and cleaner depends on personal preference. You will get the same high quality and odor control effectiveness whichever SeaLand deodorant product you choose.

SeaLand liquid mixes instantly and provides excellent odor control in all types of systems. SeaLand dry powder is well-suited to recirculating systems and has the extra advantage of taking less storage space.

How much SeaLand deodorant should I use, and how do I add it to my tank?

You can use the following chart to help you with this question. It must be kept in mind, however, that the chart is only a guide. Conditions of extremely warm weather, longer waste holding time and larger tank capacities may require additional SeaLand deodorant treatment. Also, to maintain optimum efficiency in odor control, the waste holding tank should be cleaned thoroughly of residue and lime deposits at least once or more each season depending on use.

Type of Toilet System	Deodorant Charge		Charging Procedure
	Liquid	Granulated
Portable Toilet	4-oz. with one pint of water.	One 2-oz. packet with one pint of water.	Add to waste holding tank. Never add through toilet bowl.

Complement your choice of SeaLand deodorizer. Use SeaLand Toilet Tissue.

Low water usage and excessive amounts of tissue can contribute to clogging problems. SeaLand tissue is specially designed for rapid disintegration to help prevent clogging.

Important Reminders!

- Always read deodorant packages for warnings and precautions. Keep these products out of reach of children. Do not mix different types or brands of chemicals.
- Do not use chlorine or caustic chemicals, such as laundry bleach or drain openers in the system. These products will cause extensive damage to toilet seals and plumbing system components.
- Always instruct guests in proper operation of your toilet system and caution against disposal of foreign objects.
- Use only mild cleaners or detergents for cleaning your toilet. Strong compounds may contain ingredients which would damage plastic or rubber parts.

SaniPottie® portable toilets and components are covered by one or more U.S. and Foreign Patents.
